Yearbook Dedication

Presented to Mr. Mao by Katie Webster and Emily Padula on behalf of the Class of 2018

Good afternoon! My name is Katie Webster and this is Emily Padula. On behalf of the graduating class of 2018, we will be presenting this year's yearbook dedication to a person who has been called a "devoted teacher and friend to so many people in the Westwood High School community." He has a playful and magnanimous spirit that lights up the hallways wherever he goes. He is always eager to get involved in everything the school has to offer and cares about each individual's accomplishments. He is someone that everyone knows and at one point or another, you have probably heard someone calling out in the hallway, "Hey, what's up Mr. Mao!"

Both of us have been fortunate enough to have Mr. Mao as our teacher and agree with Rena Shi that he is "simply the best." As we all know, math is a difficult subject, but Mr. Mao brings a sense of humor to his classes that makes it more bearable. I remember when I took geometry sophomore year he would wear a different tie every day- some had avocados, turtles, sailboats- and he also claimed that the red ink he used to grade our tests was the blood of freshmen. Last year in Mrs. Mehigan's class, I looked into the hallway and saw Mr. Mao stopped outside our classroom in front of the Dunkin Donuts cups that lined the window ledge. He lifted up each of the straws and cut them off so they no longer touched the coffee, making it impossible to drink out of the cup. He also had a rule that nobody could begin putting their things back into their backpack before the bell rang and if you broke this rule he would nugget your backpack. For those who don't know, this means flipping the bag inside out and shoving everything back inside. These are just some of many examples of Mr. Mao's great sense of humor and how he always keeps his students on the edge of their seats. He is also great at motivating his students. He often says "Well, you don't have to do anything in my class, but you'll just get a zero." All joking aside, Mr. Mao is an amazing teacher, always prepared with notes that would take us right until the bell. Through rigorous coursework and problems meant to test our limits, Mr. Mao taught us how to apply the material not only to the next quiz, but to the

-Mr. Mao-

"No one puts more time, effort, or care into their work than he does. He takes time out of his busy schedule to help students succeed. He even goes out of his way to support student athletes by taking photos for them in hopes of getting scholarships and he asks for nothing in return. He makes school bearable as he is always there to give advice or be humorous as I try to learn tough topics."
-John Hawat '18

"His class has challenged me to think in new ways and he cares for his students by trying to connect with them outside of class."
-Anabel Sattler '18

"He teaches hard but always made the class fun and enjoyable to learn even on the most depressing or stressful days." -Wyatt Ritchey '18

"Mr. Mao is so involved with our school environment. Whether teaching, at sporting events, or other school events, he is always friendly to everyone."
-Tess Healy '18

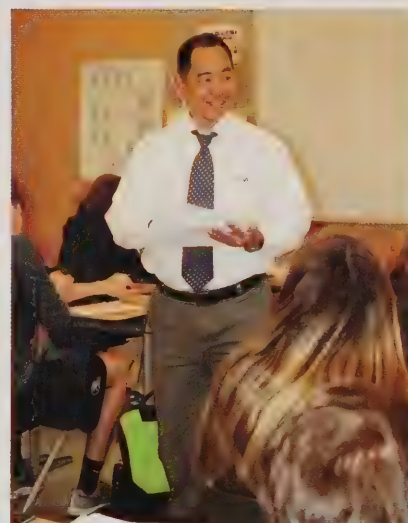

"Mr. Mao always encouraged me to work until I understood, ask until I felt confident, and take opportunities that presented themselves because life is too short to spend worrying. Mr. Mao never failed to offer me nature's candy, cheer me on in my race, and bring me back down to reality whenever I felt stressed out."

-Ashley Walker '18

"He is always a big supporter of all students when it comes to the fine arts, academics, and athletics. He makes connections with students, and is always enthusiastic about his students being "go-getters" and working hard to achieve success."

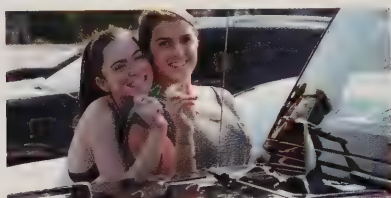

"He's simply the best!" -Rena Shi '18

real world. He shaped our problem-solving abilities that we'll carry on to the next step of our journey.

After meets and games people would always say, "have you seen Mao's photo's yet?" His online gallery is a staple of Westwood High School, and as the unofficial school photographer, he has captured so many of the memories we will look back on forever. Entire teams would go online and scroll through the whole gallery, admiring action shots or smiling candid. As Brendan Zeuthen puts it, "In addition to being our teacher, Mr. Mao has also been one of our most avid supporters. Throughout all four years, he has been supporting us at all of our various events. From taking pictures to giving us pregame pep talks, he has always gone out of his way to display his support." Encounters with the Arts, musicals and plays, concerts, spirit days, prom fashion show, trips abroad - you name it, he was there to encourage and capture these memorable moments. These pictures aren't just for keepsakes: they are WHS Photos for Scholarships. Although the photos are free to download, Mr. Mao encourages people to donate to Westwood Community Scholarships in order to give back even more to his students. In the past year, his platform has contributed over $2,000 to various scholarships, using his talents for the benefit of others. In addition, he has been a crucial resource for all of us on the yearbook staff. His large collection of pictures are used throughout the yearbook to add life and activity to each of the pages.

Most importantly, Mr. Mao is a friend to all. He was always there to help when I was stressing over math and life in general, telling me that everything would work out. He has formed close connections with many students, one of which is Ashley Walker. She said, "Mr. Mao always encouraged me to work until I understood, ask until I felt confident, and take opportunities that presented themselves because life is too short to spend worrying. Mr. Mao never failed to offer me nature's candy, cheer me on in my race, and bring me back down to reality whenever I felt stressed out." In concurrence to that, it is our great honor to dedicate the Class of 2018 yearbook to one of the most thoughtful, caring, and compassionate teachers Westwood High School has ever known. Mr. Mao, thank you from all of us.

Ms. Liza Houston

Graphic Design I & II
AP Studio Art

Students say Ms. Houston:

"forms meaningful relationships with her students"

"is dedicated to student success and well-being"

"has a fantastic sense of personal style"

"fosters divergent thinking"

Congratulations
Mom!

Before she was Ms.
Houston, everyone called her "Liza" since there was already a Ms. Parks in the district!

Ms. Houston joins with past award winners, (left to right) Mr. Goldman, Mr. Rocha, Mr. Mao, Ms. Monahan, Ms. Hanlon, Dr. Zarrow, and Mr. Mehigan

Retiring Teachers

Liz Percy

Librarian

"One of the best educators in the school. She always has a solution to any problem and always finds the positive in her students. Ms. Percy will be deeply missed and should be remembered for her 13 years of hard work to the Westwood community."

"Ms. Percy was a fellow true-crime obsessed person, and I loved her recommendations on all books, podcasts, and movies. Ms. Percy served as both a friend and mentor here at the high school, and for that, I am so grateful."

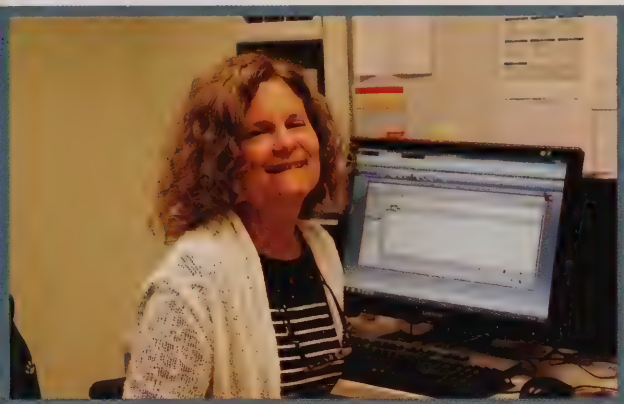

Educating was always Ms. Percy's plan, but in high school she dreamed of being a drawing teacher at a college. This brought her to RISD earning a BFA, she went on to Lesley earning an M Ed, & then finally to Simmons for an MLS. She used all that knowledge to serve as a librarian for 25 years, 13 of those here in Westwood. A funny memory: "One spring when senior pranksters threw some white mice into my office and waited for a response. My assistant and I drove the seniors crazy by making believe nothing had happened, & quietly catching all the mice & bringing them to a shelter."

"Our students leave here particularly well-equipped to handle the most challenging independent assignments in college largely due to her work."

"Ms. Percy always made it easy to find a book that you were interested in which made the difficult projects a little bit more fun."

"After climbing the mountain, you can finally enjoy the view."

Karen Poreda

School Nurse

"I use pencil for important people in my life, but when I include YOU I choose ballpoint INK just to make sure you'll never be ERASED."

She always has a smile on her face, and she is always so calm and kind. I'll really miss her next year!"

Her vision of the senior seminar "What Now" has been extremely beneficial to all the students moving on to college, military or work force to continue to be safe and enjoy all things things life offers."

She wasn't just a support for the students, those who were sick or those trying to get out of class for a nap, but she was here for the staff as well, and for that, I'll always be grateful."

In high school Mrs. Poreda's dream job was being an Air Force nurse. She followed that dream at West Texas A&M University, earning her BSN and National School Nurse Certification. She did, however, trade the military life for the public school life. She retires after 43 years as a nurse with the last 22 in Westwood. A funny memory: "I taught a smoking cessation class and the students were all late because they were across the street smoking before class!!"

"Ms. Poreda was always invested in what was best for the students, faculty and staff. I will truly miss her. She is one of the all time greats to have graced the halls of Westwood High School."

"Mrs. Poreda always helped me whenever I wasn't feeling well both physically and emotionally. She always offered support and gave great advice. I'm so thankful for all she has done for me!"

"Friendship Club is a place where connections can be built between students and students with intellectual disabilities. During our hangout time, we play sports, cook, make crafts, and make cards for people in need."

-Lauren Griffin '19

Robotics Club

"The Robotics Team is a popular club for those who are passionate about engineering, programming, and business. This year, members competed in the 2018 FIRST Robotics Competition game, FIRST Power Up, a competitive tossing game involving 120+ pound robots and milk crates."

-Larry Tseng '19

Key Club

"From decorating holiday cards for children in hospitals to delivering flowers to local nursing homes, Key Club exposed us to the real world, making us consider the tough situations affecting others that we may not see in our town. Thank you to Ms. Goldstein and all our supporters for helping us in all of our endeavors!"

Art Club

"The goal of WHS's Art Club is to create a welcoming, creative environment for every student. It has been a pleasure being this club's president for four years. Activities range from painting the mural in the hallway to sending hand-drawn 'Get Well' cards to the Children's Hospital, and everyone is always ready to embrace new members of every level of artistic expertise."

-Gabrielle Ouellette '18

Marine Biology Club

"Just keep swimming"

-Oriana Attridge '18

Drama Club

"Drama Club goes to the theatre to see live performances. Why do they do this? Because...One must let the play happen to one; one must let the mind loose to respond as it will, to receive impressions, to sense rather than know, to gather rather than immediately understand."

-Edward Albee

Mock Trials

"When you stand up and object, you immediately take control of the entire room."

- Bridgette Goss '18

Academic Decathlon

"Academic Decathlon is a group self-motivated students that are interested in learning about topics that are not necessarily covered in school. This year the Acadec team focused on African literature, pre-, post-, and neocolonialism, music, and other features of African society."

-Isabella Georges '18

Student Council

"Be creative.
Use your voice,

Mandarin Club

"Mandarin Club this year was full of food, culture, fun, and love. The activities presented enhanced our understanding and appreciation of Mandarin as a language and the Chinese traditions."

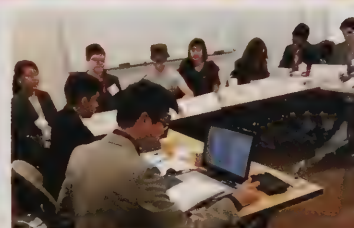

- Cynthia El Choueiri '20

Model UN

MUN has not only refined my speaking and negotiating skills, but it has also expanded my worldview and provided me a venue to meet talented individuals from all around the region. MUN was truly an invaluable part of my high school experience and it has been one of my finest memories."

-Richard Li '18

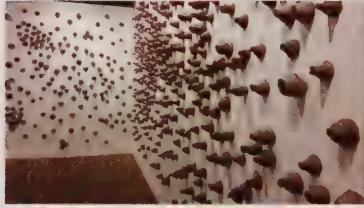

Ceramics Club

"Ceramics Club is a unique collaborative experience. We come together to discuss ideas and we work as a team to create pieces that are truly like no other. Being part of this club radiates a unifying feel where students from all grad years can speak on the same level to create something amazing."

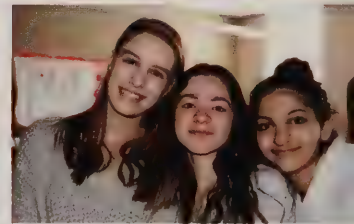

-Liam Rooney '19

Asian Culture Club

"I think the greatest thing about the Asian club was the variety it introduced to everyone. A lot of my friends knew that I was of Asian roots, but they didn't know how much my life was truly entrenched in the culture until I introduced them to the club."

- Michael Lo '19

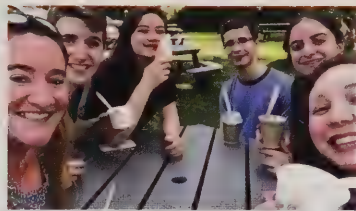

Tri-M Music Society

"Give a man a song, and he'll be happy for a day. Teach a man to make music, and he'll be happy the rest of his life"

-Noah Stone '19

The White Snake

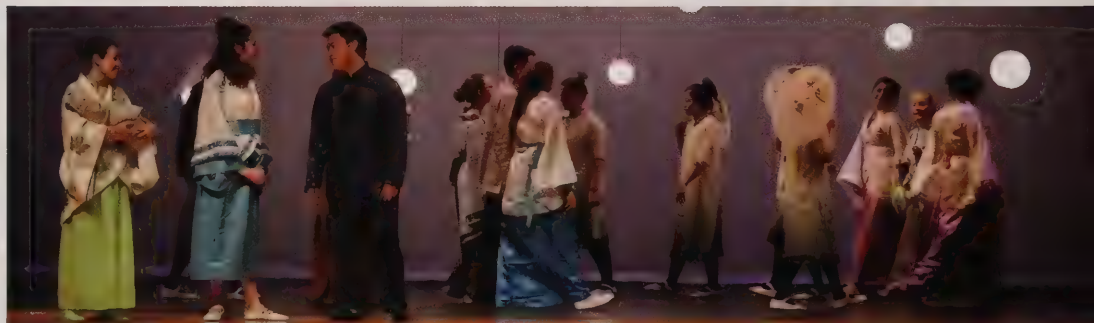

Fall Play

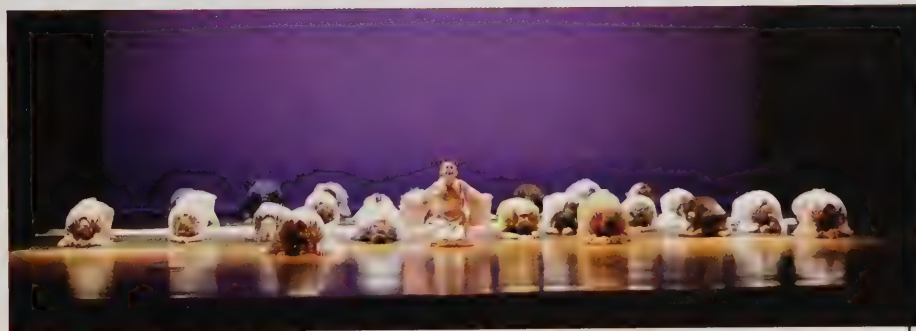

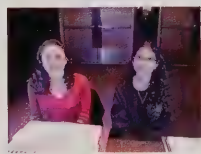

The White Snake

chronicles the tale of a gentle serpent spirit who lives for centuries coiled on a mountaintop. Funny, moving and stunningly staged, WHS's production of The White Snake is a ravishing theatrical spectacle full of enchantment and delight.

The Drowsy Chaperone

Spring Musical
March 14-17, 2018

The Drowsy Chaperone is a loving send-up of the Jazz Age musical, featuring one show-stopping song and dance number after another. With the houselights down, a man in a chair appears on stage and puts on his favorite record: the cast recording of a fictitious 1928 musical. The recording comes to life and The Drowsy Chaperone begins as the man in the chair looks on.

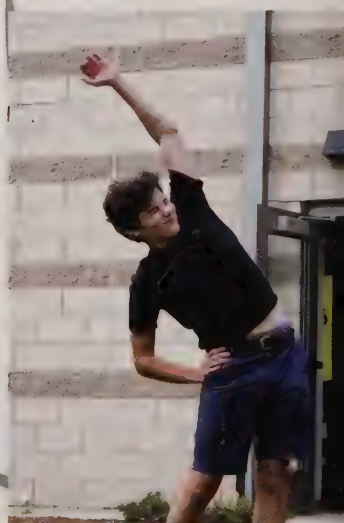

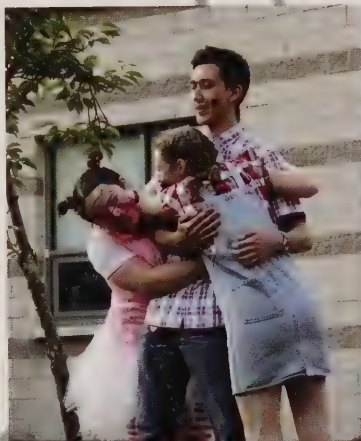

Charlotte's Web

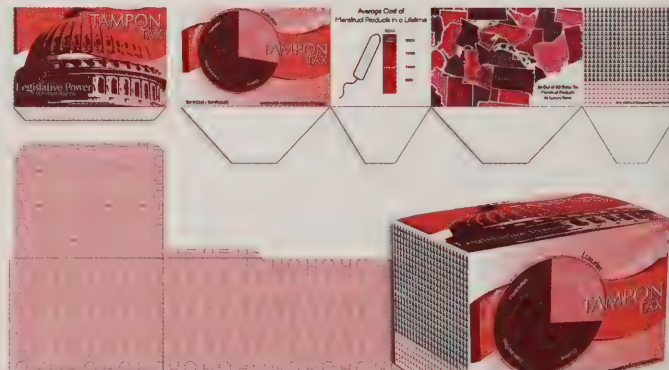

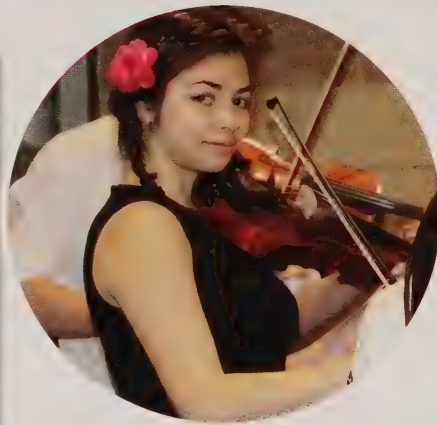

Charlotte's Web tells the thrilling tale of a pig, Wilbur, and a spider, Charlotte, as Wilbur struggles to escape the slaughterhouse. It was the first ever spring play offered at Westwood High School. The show was directed by Thurston Middle School's Ms. Walsh and Ms. Cosimini. This children's theater piece was performed in the courtyard for the preschool and other young audiences.

Encounters with the Arts *think

March 22, 2018

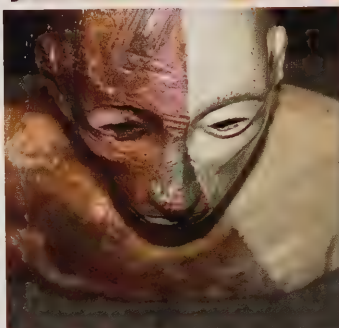

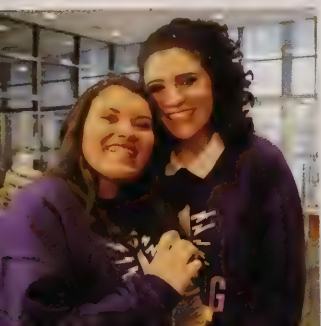

"Showing my work at Encounters with the Arts is the highlight of my year. It is like having my work displayed in an art museum. It is so rewarding after putting in a lot of hard work and effort!"

"Encounters is an open house event with a Festival Feel."

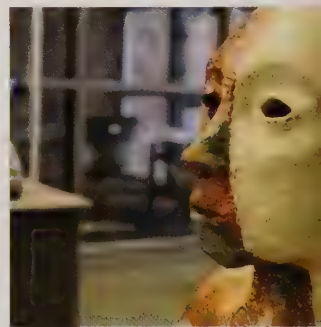

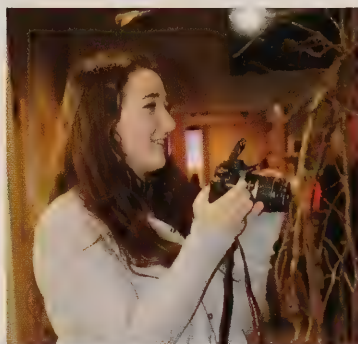

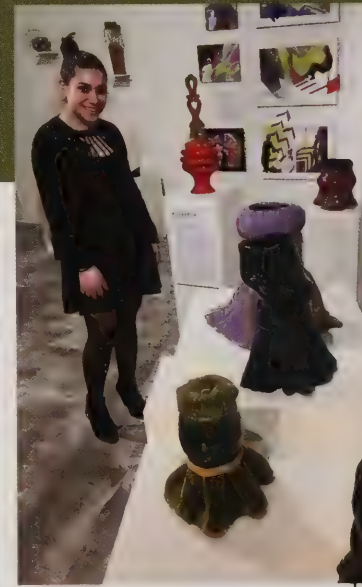

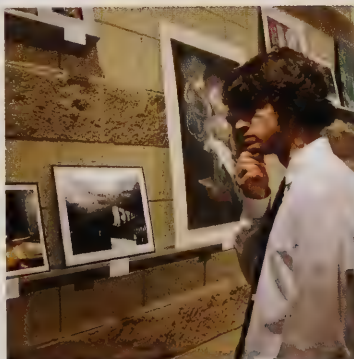

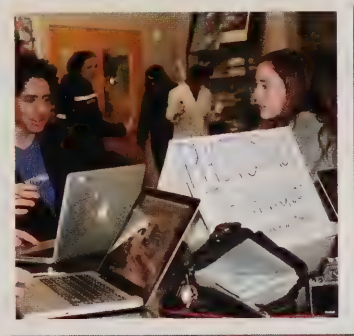

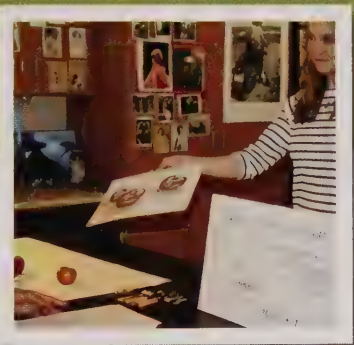

Encounters with the Arts was a huge success this year with a record turnout of families and staff attending. The art and music showcased was outstanding, and visitors really enjoyed the wide variety of "hands-on experiences" in the activated areas.

Celebrating our Boston

must admit that I look forward to this celebration every year, not just because it signifies that we are close to the end of another school year but also because it provides an opportunity for all of you to see just how remarkable and phenomenally wonderful the students from Boston truly are. They are smart, tenacious, creative, determined, beautiful and hilariously funny. Academically they excel, in the fine arts they contribute immensely, athletically they are fearless and they are also involved in clubs and student government. As a matter a fact Hermela Haile will be president of the sophomore class next year. The best part for me is that they allow me the pleasure of having relationships with them. Even though they sometimes yell at me, make fun of me and throw shade, fundamentally they let me know that they care about me as much as I most certainly care about them. Tonight you will hear from many of our students as they tell you about their goals and what they have accomplished this year and our seniors will take the floor and bid us farewell. In closing I want to encourage Kenjaya to be fierce by showing up and showing out as you tackle the world outside the comfort of your home and your neighborhood. To Junnell I say now that you are finding your voice, scream, yell at the top of your lungs because your words are insightful, wise, and important. And to my Moises I want you to be proud of the man that you have become, to slow down just a little bit and allow everyone you meet to experience your strength and power. You have transitioned from a lion cub to king of the pack. Lead on! I am so proud of the three of you and wish you all of God's blessings in the future.

~Sheryl Goodloe,
Metco Director

PEP RALLY

A large group of students, likely a school sports team or a group of friends, are posing for a group photo in a gymnasium. The students are arranged in several rows, filling the frame. Many of the students are wearing white t-shirts with "WEST" and numbers like "57" and "40" printed on them. They are all smiling and waving their hands at the camera. The background shows a green door and a white wall. The overall atmosphere is cheerful and energetic.

2018 Class Will

I, Kayla Lacey, leave my locker to the incoming freshmen. You are welcome. I can guarantee it is super clean because I haven't touched it since 2015. * I, John DeAngelis, leave the project lab so kids can do more shenanigans. * I, Danny Frodigh, leave John Hannon my parking spot. * I, Matt Mackin, leave my den leader spot to the biggest stud in the junior class. * I, Lauren Krokowski, leave the free hot water at the snack line to the class of 2019, if you ever want a warm drink on a cold day, just bring your own tea bags and ask for hot water, Marie will gladly give it to you. * I, Erin Molchan, leave my foolishness to Olivia Jordan, so she can carry on our legacy of stupidity. * I, Ali Fleischer, leave my determination to the class of 2019 so they will end senior year strong. * I, Molly Hurley, leave to Jane Krumsiek the track and lots of mint ice cream. * I, Owen Duffy, leave the Young Philosopher's Club to Eli Feldman, in hopes that he forever ponders the smell of ham and questions reality. * I, Matt Kutzer, leave to Justin O'Dwyer WHS's Stock Market Club, The Wolverines of Wall Street. * I, Connor Deehan, leave to Kevin Lyons $3.58. * I, Shannon Nagle, leave my soul to Olivia Jordan, so she can always have me, Shannon Nagle, in her heart. * I, Madeline McDonough, leave the color yellow to my dear friend Claire Anderson, for it not only represents the colors of the school I am going to, but represents the happiness I hope she experiences in her senior year. * I, Reed Wilson, leave my knowledge to the rest of the student body on how to get out of detentions. * I, Shelly Hed, leave the underdogs my ability to get through the day with a smile and a song. * I, Ian Williams, leave these words to the class of 2019, do what you love, and love what you do. * I, Ailis Robinson, leave to Noah Stone the patience to sit through AP Stats. * I, Erin Fitzgerald, leave to Hannah Murphy my spot in Drama so that she will have a comfy spot to sit during Mr. Howard's life chats. * I, Zane Rahabi, leave my homeroom seat directly under the projector to whatever poor freshman ends up in it, so that he or she may forever be condemned to an eternity of having to turn the projector on for Mrs. McGrath. * I, Coralie Vanderydt, leave it all out on the dance floor. * I, Olivia Goldberg, leave my optimism to the class of 2019 to successfully make it through next year. * I, Tim Hall, leave the grey line to put another 4 up on Medfield in the first period, the hockey guys to carry on the 'suuuuup bruuuuu0000', Peter Hochman to bring another state title to Westwood. * I, Andrew Luke, leave my parking spot to Marc Giroux. * I, Thomas Herbert, I leave my luck with the class of 2019 so they do not get destroyed by the college application process. * I, Holly Jenks, leave the responsibility of making the cheer team great to Marissa Montalto. * I, Caroline Kremer, leave to Jean Krumsiek, my track spikes. * I, Kayley Fiorino, leave my spot in the graphic design room to Sophie Weller, to keep Ms. Houston company and to give her moral support during Encounters with the Arts and AP Art submission week. * I, Tess Healy, leave my snack line debt to my brother, Joey Healy. * I, Sarah Wasserman, leave my spirited dancing to Eli Feldman so that Passing Notes can continue to stay energetic and engaging in their performances. * I, Jackson Seely, leave Shea McCusker my strength to get through everything senior year. * I, Tim Kearns, leave my locker to the class of 2019 so that they can also not use it. * I, Nani Doursounian, leave the Mezzo II's to Chloe Goodman and my chair to an incoming frosh...may her 4 years be sensational as ours were.

We Leave to You...

, Gabrielle Ouellette, leave my parking spot to my sister so that she will be able to make it out of the parking lot quickly before it gets busy after school. * I, Jack Flynn, leave my throne of STAT desk to only the worthy peers of the class on 2019. Fix chrome books with honor and defend it from the wanderers of the library. To serve and protect. * I, Michael Bullen, leave the good spot in the library to Craig's younger brother, Robert, yae. * I, Craig Kimball, leave my favorite spot in the library (the three comfy chairs in the middle) to my own flesh and blood, Robert Lawrence Kimball. With great luxury comes great responsibility; I expect him to sit there and maintain its greatness every day after school waiting for an hour and a half for my Mom to drive him home. * I, Emily Padula, leave the Westwood High School Gymnastics Team to Olivia, Alex, Bianca, Faye, Alli, Berwin, Julie, and Heather so that it will live on long enough for me to come back and visit. * I, Mark Horsfall, leave my chromebook to the class of 2019. * I, Ashley Walker, leave my math skills for the entire class of 2019 so they too can love math sem. I, Wyatt Ritchey, leave nothing to the class of 2019 because I believe they'll be fine. * I, Fontaine Liu, leave to the class of 2019, a sense of serious and impending doom that never truly gets validated, thus keeping them perpetually on their toes. * I, Alison Deininger, leave my barely used metronome to Kalani and Annemarie so Chubet will not have to count out loud anymore. * I, John Hunter go by Jack, leave the school a happy man; I hope the next year for the class of 2019 flies by, there is little for me to miss, but I will miss something. * I, Jackie DeLorey, leave my brother Danny with a greater chance at making it to school on time in the mornings :) * I, Dalila Lee, leave the cube to Bridget Slocum and her friends so he can have a place to sleep and eat. * I, Justin Anderson, leave my curiosity to the Class of 2019, may they always seek to improve themselves, and inquire about the world's archives of phenomena. * I, MacKenzie Draper, leave Claire Anderson the use of the art classroom for all of her art adventures and homework doing. * I, Maxwell Randolphi, leave my position as head dungeon master to Ryan Polansky, good luck wrangling those crazy cats pal. * I, Allison Marcus, leave all my love and affection, and the duty of watching out for my sister next year, to Claire Anderson. * I, Cam Valentine, leave my STAT desk responsibilities to anyone in the class of 2019 who is willing to take it. * I, Fiona Mastromattei, leave my positive attitude to Celia Mastromattei in order for her to succeed the rest of her high school experience. * I, Rose Cautela, leave my love to Claire Anderson and Enahm Oscar Phoenix. * I, Christine, Bridgette, Dalila, Gabby, Yina, and Shaza, leave the cube to the underclassmen. * I, Despina Islanidis, leave my seat in French to Cynthia El Choueiri so she will be able to look back on the memories that went long with it. * I, Katie Webster, leave my napping spot in math sem to the class of 2019 so they will always be rested enough to make it through another year of high school. * I, Colin Best, leave the juniors, the first kaaba so they may continue the legacy left by us seniors over the past four years. * I, Alex Doran, leave no open containers in the library. * I, John Hawat, pass down my legacy of wisdom and knowledge of the STAT Desk to Wissam Boumjahed so that he will have the power to fix any chromebook and take the title of "Best STAT Desk Employee" his senior year. * I, usie McCarthy, leave my high top table to whoever gets to it first at lunch time. I hope it brings you as many good times as it has brought me! * I, Lauren O'Connor, am (not) leaving the snack line.

Class Day

June 1st, 2018

Thank you Mr. Gillis. Good afternoon faculty, administration, parents, and most importantly, my fellow classmates. My name is Richard Li and I have the privilege of being vice president of the senior class. Congratulations on 4 years of amazing achievements academically, artistically, athletically and in all your other activities.

We have always been an ambitious bunch, our minds fixed on the future, unwilling to settle for anything less than the best. In our pursuit of our passions, dreams and ambitions, we often lacked the time for retrospection or reflection on our past. That's why I am here today. As we stand at the door to adulthood and prepare to enter the next phase of our lives, I want to take this time and revisit the road we took to get here. Along the way, I hope we find gratitude, happiness and nostalgia.

In September 2005, a bunch of little kindergarteners flocked to the Downey, Martha Jones, Sheehan, Deerfield and Hanlon schools. Some were scared. Others were nervous. Many were excited. All would become some of my closest friends and mentors over the years. A great number of us were first greeted with the infamous "rubber" hot dogs in the cafeterias. Rumor had it that if you dropped it on the floor, it would bounce all the way up to the ceiling. At first recess was a race to see who was the fastest, later, it featured basketball, touch football and soccer games. Then Pokemon cards took our young worlds by storm and recess turned to Wall Street as we traded back and forth. The gym unit when the structures were transported to our schools was always one of the highlights of each year, especially since it was destined to feature an ambulance call one way or another.

In third grade, we all got to embrace our musical talents when we got recorders. I'm sure everyone's parents were super pleased with dissonant sounding tunes of "Mary Had a Little Lamb" or "Hot Cross Buns" ringing through the house each night. We also devoted a hearty amount of time to learning to write cursive and to this day, the only thing I have used it for was signing that statement at the end of the SAT. If you were unlucky enough... I mean fortunate enough to go to extended day, then you got to spend an extra 3 hours of your day at the Hanlon School with a squad that consisted of me, Fawaz, and Dan O'Connor. And we can't forget that one time we all had to put on our best Pilgrim outfits and go to the Fisher school to see what education was like back in the day.

Then, right when we became kings of our elementary schools and got to know pretty much everyone in your grade, we got thrown into middle school, surrounded by many new faces. You may remember middle school as the dark ages, but from decorating lockers to handball tournaments to going to Canobie lake park, middle school had its fair share of great moments. Here are some of my favorites: We were just beginning middle school when our favorite app Instagram took the social media world by storm. Our feeds were littered with posts saying "like for a truth is" or "Like this for a compliment." Come to think of it.... Some of you still owe me one of those.

Kids, be glad you don't know. Also in 7th grade, we got to unleash our inner party animal at Bar and Bat Mitzvahs where we jammed out to classics like Gangnam Style and Call Me Maybe. In 8th grade, we had a mysterious ceiling artist, and I am not going to say who it is, but.... I would like to take this time to give my boy John Hawat a shout out on his underrated good art skills, not to mention his other talents. Moises has played a role here at Westwood High School in the Let's Talk About Race program but I can only think about his first conversation about stereotype and stigma at our class-wide assembly in 8th grade and his comment about Ms. Peterson.

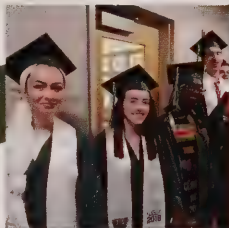

Then high school rolled around and we went from kings to pawns once more. Many concepts that seem second nature by now like rotating schedules, lunch being split into 3 parts, and layout of the school were all completely foreign to us in freshman year. We got lost, ate during the wrong lunches, and dealt with our first midterm and finals weeks. When sophomore year came along, we felt like true high schoolers as we got frees and Marie got to know some of her most frequent customers Katherine Watson and Matt Berluti. Sophomore year peaked when Owen Plouffe got a job at Panera Bread and every Monday, he brought buffel bags full of cookies, bagels, scones and baguettes. Plouffe definitely deserves some public recognition for that. You the real MVP.

Then came junior year, notorious for being the most stressful and difficult year of high school: it did not disappoint. Between college visits, SATs, ACTs, and our beloved public speaking class, we had our hands full. To add salt to the wound, they even took away those delicious chocolate chip muffins we enjoyed all throughout middle school and our first 2 years of high school from the snack line. Soon, we attended our first prom and after, it seemed as if senior year was right before our eyes. We grinded out those last few weeks, and in the blink of an eye, we were wearing our See You Later Shirts and taking pictures on the first day of senior year.

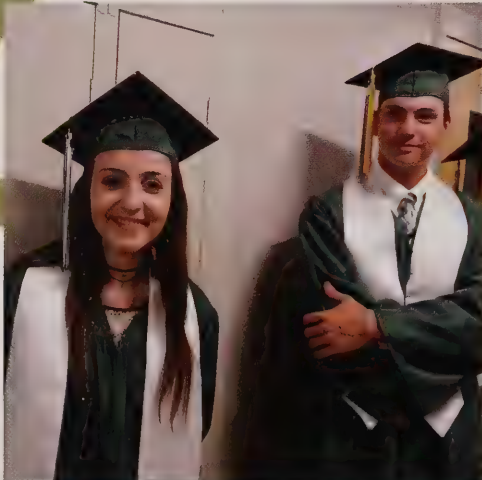

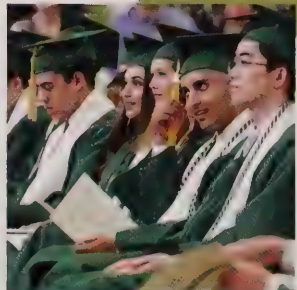

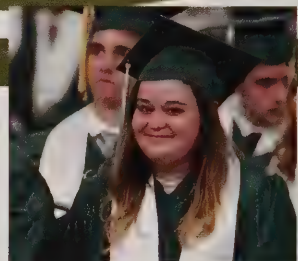

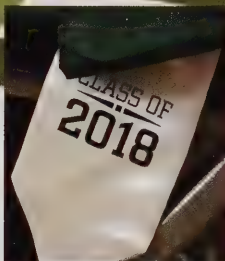

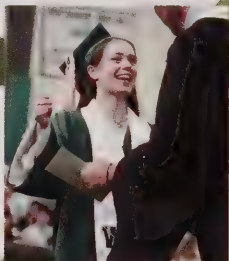

Now, if high school is a treasure chest, then senior year is surely the jewel. Theater delivered one of the most breathtaking performances in recent memory with "The Drowsy Chaperone." Girls ice hockey won the TVL. Boys lax accomplished a historic feat by beating Medfield. Swim team...well, actually we aren't gonna talk about that. You know it's bad when Bryce and I are the fastest guys on the team...We also had numerous individuals win prizes for their artistic and written works. We got to leave during triple lunch, and your legislative council reps deserve a huge shoutout for that. We grinded through 12 years of amazing times together and this year, we got to see the culmination of years of dedication and training in athletics and the arts.

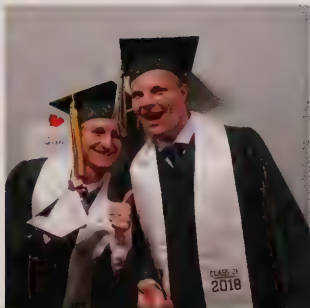

Today, we are 2 days away from graduation. 2 days. Looking back, I have no idea how time went by so fast. But what I do know is how I got here and what I am grateful for. Class of 2018, Thank you for being the most outstanding group of people I have ever met. Thank you for showing me talents I never knew existed. Thank you for a breathtaking 12 years together. Thank you for believing in me as your vice president, but above all, thank you for letting me be your friend. Richard Li '18

GRADUATION!!!

CLASS OF 2018

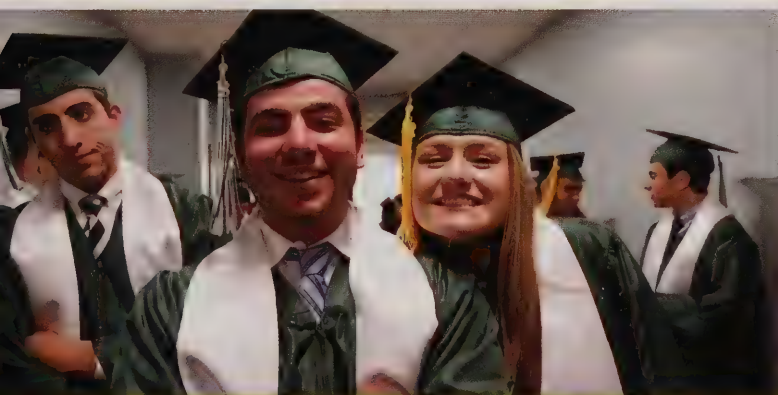

"I hope that you are filled with an amazing sense of happiness and accomplishment today...Because we're all sitting here together as graduates. We're all about to travel down our own paths, ones that might not intersect. But no matter how far we spread across the globe after today, we will always be connected by the memories and experiences we shared in Westwood."

-Class President Elizabeth Kelly

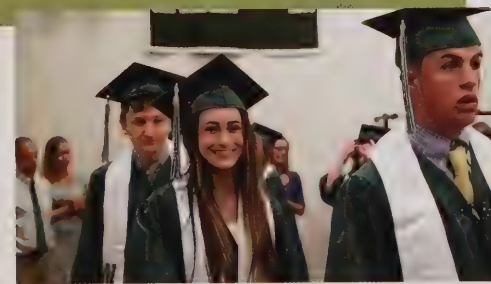

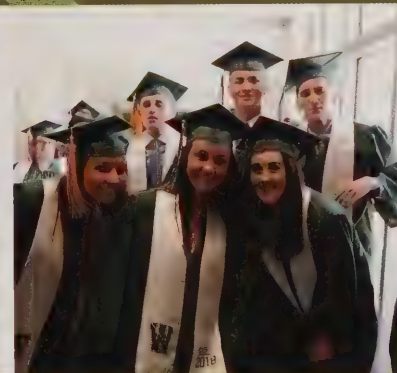

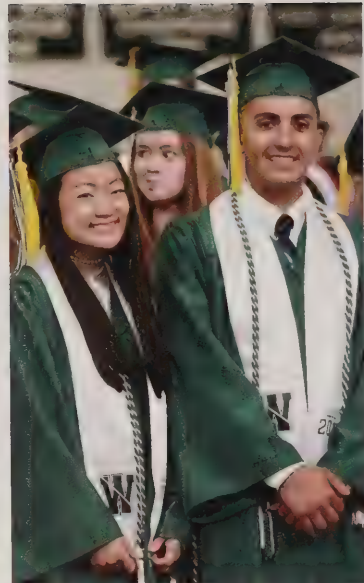

"We have seen student leaders define 2018; student leaders who you know, student leaders who you sit among, student leaders who you are. Student leaders who have not extinguished that spark with which we are all endowed...To this graduating class of 2018, in this time of exciting transition and unknown challenges, I urge you to go forth and burn brightly, and shine guiding light on the path you forge ahead."

-Co-Valedictorian John Stebbins

"Don't be trapped by dogma - which is living with the results of other people's thinking. Don't let the noise of other's opinions drown out your own inner voice. And most important, have the courage to follow your heart and intuition."

Nick, you paved your own path, "doing what you do". We are all so proud of your persistence, focus, and accomplishments. Have fun in writing the next chapter of your life!
We love you dearly.

Danielle Yanoff

Our wish for you is that you go through life as happy as you've made us. Choose the right path not the easy one... Be firm yet forgiving... Love others and let them love you...

We are so proud of you and all of your great accomplishments!

Know that your always loved.

Richard Li

Dear Richard,

Our memories of you as a cute little baby are still fresh. In the blink of an eye, you have become a bright young man. Congratulations on your high school graduation and admission into college! We are very proud of your achievements in the past 18 years. We feel very fortunate to have you as our first child, and you allow us to grow with you to make our parenthood more rewarding and memorable. Your intelligence, dedication, independence, warm personality and self discipline will help you succeed. Aim high and work hard! Wish you all the best for this new chapter of your life! A bright future is waiting for you!

Love, Mom and Dad

Dear Richard,

We will all miss you so much when you are gone at college! You are a great brother and have always been supporting us and giving really good advice whenever we need help. We always have so much fun with you. You always have great ideas and we admire how hard-working and determined you are. You always play with us in your spare time and we enjoy playing boat with you. You have been a fantastic role model for us. We hope you have a great time at college and remember to come back a visit us! Work hard, have fun, and enjoy life!

Love, Annie and Olivia and Grace

To the Class of 2018

"The class of 2018 is armed with the wit and wonder to take on this world."- Ms. Holmes

"You should be proud of all your hard work, we all are! Best of luck in your future endeavors."- Mrs. Ferguson

"It has been a joy to watch you grow over these past four years. You are each bright, thoughtful, and kind students, and you should be proud of your many accomplishments here at WHS. I look forward to hearing about your future achievements to come. You will be missed!" -Miss Devaney

"I hope that as you go forward you remember to be positive, do good, and foster your sense of wonder. So long as we reflect and grow from them, remember that mistakes mean we're learning! All the best in your future endeavors!" -Mr. Miller, Physics

"I'll always remember you as my last 6th-grade class at TMS and how far you've come individually and as a group. I wish you the courage to experience many great adventures and the awareness to appreciate your roots." -Miss Hebner

"The graduating class of 2018 demonstrated exceptional character throughout their 4 years at WHS. They were a hard working, conscientious group of students who were, above all, extremely kind to one another. Their tolerance and kindness defined them as an exceptional group of young adults." Mrs. Thurston

"The TEC students would like to thank the Friendship Club members of the class of 2018 for being good friends. Please keep in touch with us by emailing Ms. Kelly to let us know what you are up to. Our advice is to start each day with an attitude of gratitude!"

"I wish you curiosity and courage. Continue to use your voices. Congratulations to all!" - Ms. O'Brien

"I am so excited for each of you to embark on the new adventures that await you after high school. Try to keep your passions at the center of all that you do as you enter into the college and career phase of your life. If you enjoy and care about what you are doing, the rest will fall into place! I am very proud of each of you." Mrs. Haberman

"I will always remember you fondly since I had many of you in class as freshmen, juniors, and seniors. Keep challenging yourselves, and remember to come back to visit!" - Mr. Looney

"You guys always kept me on my toes! I will miss you. Have a great summer and best of luck for a wonderful, joy-filled future." -Principal Bevan

"Congratulations! You are a very special group! Always remain true to who you are, do not try to conform to what others want you to be. We will miss your unique class personality! Go get em!"-Mr. Baird

"Be sure to make the people around you better and surround yourself with people that make you better. Work hard and remember that hard work does not ensure success, it only guarantees that you deserve it. Always prepare for the worst and hope for the best. Wishing you all the best in your future endeavors!" -Mr. Mao.

"I may not have gone where I intended to go, but I think I have ended up where I needed to be."
